AUTHOR

Ioana Stoian is passionate about encouraging children to be authentic and to follow their curiosity about the world around them. She is the author of the board book Always be You (2019) and this is her debut picture book.

Enjoy a walk through an urban neighborhood guided by a child eager to share their love of road signs. By the end of this journey, children will be familiar with many common road signs and their meanings.

This book encourages children to be curious about the world they inhabit, inspires them to explore their own neighborhoods on foot, and empowers them to participate in daily activities like crossing the road safely. The rhyming text and whimsical hand-drawn illustrations will engage and appeal to children and adults alike.
